Communications

A copy of the first of the proposed quarterly rural services newsletter was tabled for members information. This regular newsletter will cover topics of interest and relevance to the region's rural landowners.

Bovine Tb – 2003/04 Programme Progress

A graph of year end figures outlining infected cattle herds in the Wellington region was tabled.

Mr O'Donnell said that the targeted figure for infected cattle and deer herds for the Wellington region had been 43 and it was pleasing to report that the total number achieved had been 22 resulting in a substantial reduction which had far exceeded all expectations.

Mr Dalziell expressed his thanks and appreciation to Committee members and staff for their attendance and excellent presentations given to the Animal Health Board at the time of their recent visit to the Wellington region. As a consequence of the issues and concerns presented, the Animal Health Board had since held a debrief. In terms of the graph presented and the the Animal Health Board's focus to get a national perspective, Mr Dalziell reported that infected cattle herds numbers for this region held opposite trends to Hawkes Bay and the West Coast regions where, in the latter case, infected herds had increased from 67 to 82 this year.

The Committee noted an increase in the spread of feral pigs in the region with evidence of releasing occurring, and a newsletter was seen as the best means of highlighting the associated risks with the spread of Tb.
